Message from Mrs Kellett

What a week it has been! We kicked off with our Year 6 production of 'The School of Pop' and honestly, I'm still buzzing from it. The acting was remarkable, the singing absolutely amazing, and the teamwork? Just incredible. Our Year 6 children really showed us what they're made of.

As we reach the end of another school year, things have been wonderfully busy. We've been putting the finishing touches on our curriculum, making sure we've covered everything important - including that crucial relationship education that helps our children understand the world around them. It's been a real team effort getting everything wrapped up properly.

And speaking of our Year 6 children, we're saying goodbye to our wonderful Year 6 cohort, and what fantastic achievements they've made during their time with us. I can honestly say they are absolutely ready for their next stage of education. They're heading off with all our QP love and, more importantly, with our school vision firmly in their hearts - 'everything is possible'. I genuinely can't wait to hear about your continued successes as you move forward.

We're also saying farewell to Miss Box, who starts her new job in September. She has been such an asset to our teaching staff, and we're going to miss her so much. The children have been lucky to have her, and I know she'll be brilliant in her new role.

After another successful and incredibly busy year, I want to say a huge thank you for your continued support. It really does make all the difference. But my biggest thanks go to our wonderful team here at QP who go above and beyond every single day to nurture and develop our amazing little Queen's Parkers. They pour their hearts into everything they do, and it shows.

Congratulations to Pauline - in our kitchen- who gets married in August. Best wishes from everyone at QP.

Before you head off for your well-deserved summer break, don't forget to collect your child's wellies and have a quick check of lost property - you'd be surprised what turns up there! Have an amazing summer, everyone. Rest, recharge, and make some wonderful memories. We'll see you back here on Thursday 4th September, ready for another fantastic year ahead.
